

Monitoring

Region

Biologist

Ornithologist

Endangered

Threatened

Conservation

Characteristics

Field Journal

Data

Monitoring:

to observe, record, or detect with tools.

Region:

an extensive, specific part of land.

Biologist:

a specialist in biology, the science of life or living things.

Ornithologist:

the branch of zoology that deals with birds.

Endangered:

any species that is in danger of extinction throughout its region.

Threatened:

any species that is likely to become an endangered species within the future throughout its region.

Conservation:

official supervision of rivers, forests, and other natural resources in order to preserve and protect them.

Characteristics:

a distinguishing feature or quality.

Field Journal:

the naturalist/ecologist's record of all of these matters as they present themselves to the observer.W

Data:

facts and statistics collected together for reference or analysis.